A MESSAGE FROM

Jim Skaggs

Colossians 4:5-6

⁵Conduct yourselves with wisdom toward outsiders, making the most of the opportunity. ⁶Let your speech always be with grace, as though seasoned with salt, so that you will know how you should respond to each person.

When thinking about this new year, what do you most think about? I almost always look back on the previous year and realize how fast time flies. I think of a few regrets as I realize that I didn't take time to do some things on my "bucket list" and I didn't make it a priority to get together with certain people and just visit, go to lunch, or even call and pray with them. In short...I didn't "make the most of my opportunities" with people. So, I seem to always re-commit myself at the beginning of the new year to seize more opportunities to accomplish really important things on my "to-do" list. People things!

Here's the deal. The people God has given me in my life are the most important parts of my life. Also, I want to remember that for each day, "at midnight that night, the day is gone and I cannot change anything or re-live the events of the day." – I want to make the most of all opportunities in 2023.

That means that I need to prioritize people and this passage helps me to do that. I need to:

1. Walk with wisdom towards people, especially those who are not Christians.
2. I need to make sure my words are "graceful" as though seasoned with salt (This means my words should be easy to swallow).

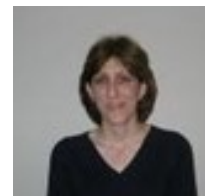

In this way, as I take care to watch what I say and how I say it...I will respond to them in the way Jesus would respond to them.

Keep shining Jesus in 2023!

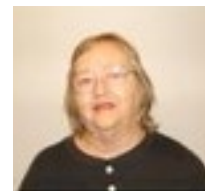

Love you all,

Jim
